

Expect Famine And Disease in Hurricane's Wake

storm at Porto Rico Left Tens of Thousands Homeless—Damage May Reach Into Millions—Only Meagre Reports From Interior of Island—Supplies Needed at Once.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 15 (AP).—With tens of thousands of persons estimated to be homeless, efforts were under way today to avert famine and disease, which it was feared would follow in the wake of the hurricane that struck Porto Rico on Thursday.

While no deaths have been reported, the authorities thought that as soon as communication has been established with other points on the island fatalities would become known.

The damage, Governor Horner Tower said, probably would reach into millions. He placed the homeless at "tens of thousands" and described the destruction of homes and property as "immense", practically all frame structures being destroyed.

Immediate aid from all agencies was said to be vital by Thomas E. Benner, chancellor of the University of Porto Rico, who made a survey of the area within a seven mile radius. He added:

"Fruits and vegetables will supply abundance for a few days, beyond that is famine."

"Medical supplies, food and shelter are needed at once."

The telephone system was completely demoralized with miles of wires down. The San Juan exchange was flooded and the damage great. Reports from other parts of the island continued meagre and unverified.

City of 35,000 Is "Flat".

The first automobile from Caguas, about 20 miles south of San Juan, made its way here yesterday afternoon. The driver said Caguas was "flat". This municipality has a population of about 35,000 and is in one of the greatest tobacco growing sections of the island.

Much of the shipping in the harbor was either sunk or ashore. The New York and Porto Rico line steamer San Lorenzo sailed during the afternoon twenty-four hours behind schedule, having remained tied up to her pier during the hurricane.

All banks were closed due to the inadequacy of transportation. It was probable that they would open today.

The 600-foot towers of the Navy radio station at Carey, 30 miles south of San Juan, were reported to be down and wireless communication was halted either from damage to apparatus or lack of power for sending.

Governor Tower said he had no information regarding crops destroyed. He thought it probable that injury to fruits was considerable, tobacco quite large and coffee very great. Sugar cane he did not believe to be seriously damaged.

Local Relief Agencies Inadequate.

The governor took preliminary steps soon after the hurricane to organize relief for the immediate vicinity. He said all local means would be exhausted before outside aid was asked. It was thought, however, that if the damage to other points was as great as that to San Juan the local relief agencies would be inadequate.

Chancellor Benner said that all except two buildings of the University of Porto Rico were damaged, probably beyond repair. He placed the loss at $300,000 and asserted the institution would probably have to close for a time at least. The university is at Rio Piedras, seven miles south of San Juan.

At Ponce, in the south central section of Porto Rico, St. Luke's hospital was destroyed by the hurricane, a cablegram to missionary headquarters of the Episcopal Church in New York stated. Miss Ellen T. Hicks, the hospital superintendent, added that all were saved. St. Luke's was built in 1906 being the first modern hospital on the island and was valued at $125,000.

Suffering Among the Masses.

Probably the greatest suffering among the masses will be due to the destruction of bananas and other minor crops off which they live. Little of these crops was believed to be left standing.

The coffee crop, of which little had been gathered and which had been estimated to be worth $15,000,000, was the cause of serious concern. If the storm struck the coffee centers on the south side of the island, the loss will be heavy among a group of small farmers little prepared to stand it.

The weather bureau said that both in intensity and duration the storm was the worst that ever hit San Juan and much worse than that recorded at Miami in 1926.

Illinois Tornado Takes Heavy Toll

Twister Kills at Least Seven, Injures 50 and Leaves Property Damage Estimated at More Than Five Millions—Sixteen Persons Missing.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 15 (AP).—Another of the midwestern tornadoes which already have taken a dozen lives in Nebraska and South Dakota this week dropped out of black skies into Rockford late yesterday, killing at least seven persons, injuring 50 and leaving property damage estimated at more than five million dollars.

Sixteen persons were missing when an intensive search of the ruins of factory buildings and private homes was begun in earnest.

The tornado swept a three-mile strip, demolishing two factories in which several hundred men were at work and destroying many homes.

American Legionnaires and Illinois National Guardsmen patrolled the storm area with loaded rifles during the night and early today as relief workers moved forward against the debris.

Four factories, Elco Tool Company, Union Furniture Company, Chair Factory "B", of the Rockford Chair and Furniture Company, and the Mechanics Machine Company, were among the larger structures demolished, while numerous smaller factories and homes raised the estimated damage total to more than $5,000,000.

The twister, described as a monstrous funnel-shaped cloud that lifted and swooped as it progressed, entered the southwest limits of the city, moving a path from 50 to 300 feet wide on its whirl through the city to the Grand highway.

His Factory Section.

The tornado first hit the factory section where Chair Factory "B" is located. The fourth floor of the structure was swept off and the walls of the building bulged out by the terrific wind that moved the entire building some 30 feet, the west portion falling over the dry kiln structure.

The payroll for chair factory "B" contained 113 names.

It is believed more than 50 of these men escaped when the tornado first struck, but it is not known how many more were able to get out of the building, where power lines and tottering walls made rescue work extremely precarious during the night.

Police Search Ruins.

Two hundred firemen, policemen, deputy sheriffs and highway police from Beloit, Wis., Freeport, Dixon and Belvidere, Ill., worked through the night in the ruins of chair factory "B". Searchlights were used, but the condition of the structure precluded any organized relief work. Hospitals were established at the scene of the disaster.

The twister came within a block and a half of three grade schools, in which there were more than 1,000 children. Frantic mothers ran down the streets the storm had traversed looking for their children. Many blocks were untouched by the wind which lifted and then dropped in its journey.

Reports of remarkable escapes were heard everywhere.

Some workmen who escaped from the chair factory told of machinery sliding along the floor and then crashing through the girders. Some of the men climbed out windows, saying that they had to dodge great posts and flying splinters. Workmen at the Union Furniture Factory said they believed one of their comrades was buried beneath a high water tank that fell through the basement.

Beatty Is Held On Two Charges

East Pierpont Street Youth, Charged With Driving a Car While Intoxicated, Too Drunk to Be Arraigned and Is Lodged in Jail for Hearing Monday.

John Beatty, 23 of 45 East Pierpont street, was arrested this morning by Officers Cramer and Bower on Greendale avenue near Broadway on two charges. The most serious charge against Beatty is that of operating an Essex touring car while intoxicated. The other charge is driving a car without the necessary license papers.

Beatty was taken to police headquarters and his car placed in the police garage. Beatty after answering some questions as to his name, age and occupation, fell asleep in a chair. Sergeant Phinney decided Beatty was too drunk to be arraigned in police court and had him taken to the county jail to await a hearing on Monday.

Frankel Was Arrested.

Max Frankel of West Park was arrested Friday by Officer Saehoff who charged Frankel with parking his auto more than six inches from the curb at Broadway and Union street. Frankel gave bail for his appearance in police court on Monday.

Hoover To Rest Over Week-End

In Preparation For His Trip To New Jersey and The Strenuous Program Which He Has Mapped Out For His Stay There.

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—Herbert Hoover today approached a week end of rest and quiet in preparation for his trip to New Jersey on Monday and the strenuous program which he has mapped out for his stay in that state.

His only major engagement was with Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, with whom he has consulted frequently in planning his trip to Newark, where on Monday evening he will deliver a prepared address devoted largely to an exposition of his views on labor. Today's conference was arranged for the purpose of reviewing once more the nominee's plans for the trip and adding whatever finishing touches might be deemed necessary.

A farewell conference with Senator Curtis, Hoover's running mate on the national party ticket, brought a busy day to a close yesterday. A short while later, Curtis entrained for a speaking tour that will carry him through the heart of the corn belt and wheat producing areas of the middle west and northwest.

Meanwhile it became known that President Coolidge, who is expected to participate actively in some way in Hoover's campaign, will make no speeches in the course of his forthcoming visit to Vermont. It developed that the president, since he returned to Washington from his vacation in Wisconsin, had received a message from Governor Weeks, reiterating its previous requests that the chief executive make an inspection tour of his native state, and that the president intends to confine his visit to this.

Visits To New Jersey Cities.

At a conference with Senator Edge, Hoover included in his itinerary of his New Jersey tour a motor trip from Newark to Trenton on Tuesday afternoon, at the conclusion of a luncheon to be given by the senator at which he will meet the state and county party chieftains. The journey from Newark to Trenton will carry the nominee through Elizabeth, New Brunswick and Princeton as well as a number of smaller places.

It was made known, too, that under Hoover's present plans, his Boston address will be the last that he will make in the east and that it will precede by a short time his departure for California, where he will cast his vote on November 6. As yet, no date has been assigned for the Boston speech.

Hoover now plans to confine his speaking program before starting westward strictly to the four addresses already announced—Newark, New York, Elizabeth, Tenn., and Boston. He has found it necessary to decline an invitation to speak at the Massachusetts State Fair in Springfield, but he may be able, while in the Bay state, to visit by motor a number of towns in the vicinity of Boston.

Explains Why Letters Are Unanswered.

George Akerson, Hoover's secretary, has issued a statement in connection with two open letters sent to the nominee by Henry C. Hansbrough, former Republican senator from North Dakota. Hansbrough in his first letter called upon Hoover to denounce the "inspiring campaign" and in his second asked why the candidate had not made a reply to his communication.

"Mr. Hansbrough's first letter and his second were given to the press before Mr. Hoover even had a chance to read them," Akerson said. "That is a discourteous practice which Mr. Hoover himself never indulges in. He refuses to pay attention to such communications, which they are handled in that way. That is not the way gentlemen do things."

LEVINE'S CASE RESTS WITH WASHINGTON OFFICIALS

The case of United States of America vs. Morris Levine, looking toward the latter's removal from these shores as an undesirable alien, came up before Deputy Immigration Commissioner A. G. Abbot, at Ellis Island several days ago. After a review of testimony submitted by county authorities and the submission of counter evidence by Levine's attorney, Lefroy Lonsberry, of Ellenville, the commissioner dismissed the action against the prisoner. A transcription of the testimony, however, taken at the hearing was forwarded to the Chief Immigration Commissioner at Washington, D. C., and the final decision of the government authorities in regard to the case will come from that city. Levine's bail of $1,000 was continued pending decision.

New Paltz Plans To Celebrate Its 250th Anniversary

Old Stone Houses to Show Furnishings and Costumes of Colonial Days—Ancient Bible to Be Presented to Memorial Society and Made the Occasion of Interesting Addresses.

Beginning at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, September 29, and lasting well into the night under the auspices of its Memorial Society, the village of New Paltz plans to celebrate its 250th anniversary.

Back in 1678 there were only 2,000 people in the New York colony able to bear arms, and the addition of a new village to the 24 communities then existent in the state must have been something of an event. It is therefore entirely proper that New Paltz's Memorial Society which bears the somewhat overpowering title of the Huguenot Patriotic, Historical, and Monumental Society of New Paltz should commemorate with fitting ceremonies the 250th anniversary of the settlement of New Paltz.

The picturesque atmosphere of 250 years ago is to be reproduced on New Paltz's historic street. Under the direction of Robert Deyo, the interiors of the old stone houses which line Huguenot street are to be refurbished after the manner of Colonial America.

When New Paltz's guests arrive to inspect the old houses sundry and odd occupations will be observed. There will be candle making, weaving on ancient looms, spinning, open fire cooking, churning, quilting, threshing, etc. The women, men and children engaged in this work will be costumed in dress vogue in the 17th century.

The street itself will be done over. Mr. Kevan has worked out a plan whereby, until the electric lights and the lanterns blaze forth in the evening, the modern features of the street will be concealed; and to the guests arriving on Saturday afternoon, the street will appear to be, as indeed it once was, a clearing in the wilderness.

Presentation of Ancient Bible

At half past three in the afternoon after an address of welcome by A. E. Jansen, president of the Memorial Society, the Hasbrouck Bible will be presented and given to safe keeping in the Memorial House.

The Bible is being presented to the Memorial Society by Attorney Charles D. Deyo of Kingston. The presentation address will be made by Judge Clearwater of Kingston, whose ability as a speaker, whose interest in old New Paltz and its families have been evidenced in many tangible ways. Another feature of the afternoon program and one sure to stir the interest of all present will be a vocal solo by George Oates of New Paltz. Before the formal program, in the Memorial House, will be a performance by the Malsenholder's Band will furnish music in keeping with the spirit and character of the occasion.

Old Fashioned Refreshments.

A committee of ladies is busily at work planning the menu for the refreshment tables. The basic idea is to combine in the menu with some of the best of the standardized dishes, which might be expected, others bearing the flavor of yesteryear, consequently, but spiced, oreganese, switchel, etc., will be on sale to tempt the palate and warm the stomach of the epicure and those courageous souls who like the thrill of the old and the strange. The supper will begin at half past five.

Malsenholder's Band will give a concert beginning at 7 o'clock. During the evening a varied program in lighter vein will be presented. A. B. Bennett, Miss Elizabeth Lefroy, and Miss Elise Taylor are arranging and drilling the members. The presentation of this committee assures an interesting, artistic and varied entertainment, the stage experience of Mr. Bennett is a guarantee of artistry and merit.

Celebration Is Free.

In keeping with the spirit of the celebration is the announcement of the executive committee that there will be no admission charged. Modestly attractive programs of the occasion will be on sale; and of course it will be necessary for the committee in charge of refreshments to put reasonable prices upon the menu items, but in other ways the celebration is free to the friends of old New Paltz. The trustees of the Memorial Society together with the village of New Paltz join in the proffer of welcome to their guests on Saturday, September 29.

CUBAN DRUG TRAFFIC WILL BE RESTRICTED

Havana, Sept. 15 (AP).—Drastic legislation against promiscuous and unrestricted sales of narcotics and a tightening of present laws received the approval of Dr. Francisco Maria Fernandez, secretary of the department of health.

The proposed measure has been sent President Machado with the request that he recommend to congress that immediate action be taken.

The bill, patterned after the Harrison Act of the United States, would compel registration of all physicians and pharmacists handling narcotics, and would compel them to maintain strict records of supplies. Severe penalties in both fines and imprisonment are provided for violations.

71st Birthday of Wm. Howard Taft

Former President Receives Congratulations of American Residents at Murray Bay and Canadians at the Settlement.

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—This was a big day for a jolly big man up at Murray Bay, Quebec.

It was the birthday of William Howard Taft, who has kept a cheery disposition through four years at the White House, other parts in exacting administrative duties shifted to him by the American government, and more years as chief justice of the United States.

He is 71 years old today. Most of the American residents at Pointe-Au-Pic, where his summer home is located, are congratulating him and the Canadians living at the settlement three miles away are joining in.

The observance of the birthday of this distinguished American has taken on the importance of an annual celebration to which the former President of the United States looks forward with genuine pleasure. On that day he can lower the bars erected by the precedent surrounding his high office and mingle unrestrained in the society of his friends.

It is like old times at his summer home, where all are free to come and go as they please, and where Mr. Taft can meet people with his always cordial greeting; a friendly slap on the back of the men, and a wholesome smile for all.

The porch at his summer home is the point of greatest attraction in the village, and there his friends love to gather, to exchange reminiscences, and share in the happiness which radiates from him, whether his infectious laughter is aroused by one of their anecdotes, or by memories surrounding some incident in his eventful life.

Profusion of Birthday Cakes.

The birthday always demonstrates the great affection in which the Chief Justice is held by his Murray Bay friends. They have had prepared birthday cakes in great profusion, large and small, and arranged to shower upon him flowers and other tokens of remembrance. Members of his immediate family—Mrs. Taft, his daughter Helen and her husband, his two sons, Robert and Charles, and their wives, and his eleven grand children—were there to make the day memorable.

The summer home of the Chief Justice, described by him as "better than a tent," consisting of ten rooms and eight baths, having grown with the family, had been prepared for the occasion, with the porch and yard ready to take care of the overflow. Arrangements had been made to serve dinner at 1:30 in the afternoon to all who could be seated in his study. Mrs. Taft's room, the living room, and the dining rooms used by the family and the children, a bountiful supply of loaves and other table delicacies had been ordered, and Mrs. Taft and the children had for days been preparing all details essential to the success not only of the dinner but of the entire celebration.

Freud of many of his court duties during the summer vacation, the Chief Justice, improved in health, has enjoyed his stay at Murray Bay this year more than in recent former years. Not only has it brought him into contact with neighbors, with whom he could visit and chat, but as usual there has been the family reunion, when for months his children were with him, and he could play with his grandchildren. It is always the most enjoyable months of each year, because he loves most of all to be surrounded by his family.

Tuesday Will Be Primary Day

The place is known as the Hollowville Inn. A quantity of alleged liquors were seized by the agents and the proprietor, George W. White, was placed under arrest charged with possession of liquors in violation to the prohibition law. He will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connolly here on September 21.

KING ALEXANDER IS FOND OF RADIO SET

Belgrade, Sept. 15.—King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia is an inveterate radio fan. Using a seven tube Western Electric set, the King spends practically the whole evening tuning in.

He has already picked up most of the European stations, but complains that reception of Daventry and Paris is poor on his loud speaker. He is now constructing, with the help of an engineer, a small, short wave, amateur set, which will enable him to receive stations in the United States.

Smith's State Duties At An End

Senator Knight Will Be "Acting Governor"—Will Leave Albany Sunday Night on His Trip West.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP).—Nearly a quarter of a century of active participation in politics of his native state of New York was but a panorama of bygone events for Governor Smith today as he swung into the last week-end prior to his departure for the west on his first speaking tour as a presidential candidate.

The state duties of the four-times chief executive of New York practically were at an end. From now until Election Day, November 6, he expects to devote his entire time to an intensive drive for the presidency. Only on rare occasions, between speaking trips, will he turn to state tasks now left to others.

The Democratic nominee hung the "out" sign on his office door at the state capitol yesterday and smilingly remarked that if any jobs turned up they should be turned over to the "distinguished president pro tem of the senate, John Knight, of Arcade, Wyoming county." Senator Knight, a Republican will be "acting governor," he said.

After remaining up late last night at the executive mansion, where he and Mrs. Smith had as their guests 16 newsmen for a showing of motion pictures depicting family scenes of recent years, and before his nomination at Houston, the governor set out today for the golf links for perhaps his last game in many weeks.

Two close friends, James J. Roridan, of New York, and William H. Todd, the shipbuilder, came to Albany to make up a foursome, with the governor and Roridan opposing Todd and Alfred, Jr. The period between golf and dinner and before the retiring hour had been set aside for last minute preparations for the two weeks' tour of the west.

Western Tour Begins Sunday Night.

Leaving here by special train tomorrow night at 11 p. m., eastern standard time, Governor Smith will pass through thirteen states of the middle west, far west and northern border states before returning to Rochester October 1 for the Democratic state convention. During the two weeks, six campaign addresses will be delivered in as many cities, the first at Omaha, Neb., next Tuesday night. The others will be at Oklahoma City, September 20; Denver, September 22; Helena, September 24; St. Paul, September 27; and Milwaukee, September 29.

Governor Smith will make no speeches from his train, but will appear on the rear platform of an observation car to shake hands and exchange greetings with those who turn out to wish him luck. For the first week of his schedule, 24 stops have been arranged for places between the three cities where he will make addresses. Only the usual operating stops will be made between here and Chicago en route to Omaha.

Arriving in Chicago at 7:15 p. m. Monday, the train will lay over an hour and 15 minutes to allow for switching, but members of the party are expected to remain on board. No stops are planned between Chicago and Omaha.

Stolen Taxi Recovered.

An Auto Accident.

Ambulance Calls Here.

This morning the city ambulance removed Mrs. Dairy Diagonal from 229 Smith avenue to 39 Pine street and on Friday evening Thomas P. Clancy was removed from 194 First avenue to the City of Kingston Hospital.

Two estimates of cost for the elimination of the Broadway grade-crossing were submitted Friday at a hearing held before E. D. Burkhardt, engineer for the Public Service Commission, at the court house. Both estimates were made by the railroad and the State Department of Public Works cooperating, and gave the total cost including land and damages.

The estimates were submitted on the two plans as outlined by the railroad at a hearing held on July 26 and designated as Scheme "A" and Scheme "B".

Scheme "A", which calls for depressing the entire roadway under the tracks and the taking of such land and property on the west side of Broadway as necessary, would cost for construction $376,700 and for land and property damages $1,462,400, bringing the estimated total cost to $1,839,100.

Scheme "B", which calls for depressing a portion of the roadway leaving a high level roadway on the east side of Broadway, giving entrance to the remainder of the Broadway pavement, would cost $332,200 for construction, and for land and property damages $668,400, bringing the total up to $1,000,600. In this scheme the cost for construction would be slightly more but there would be much less property and land damages as but one side of Broadway would be affected by taking away the high level roadway.

Cost Under Canfield Scheme.

Under the old Canfield scheme which was proposed about 1920, the estimated cost of construction was $510,320 and the property damage $659,900, bringing the total cost up to $1,170,220. The construction cost would be somewhat higher today, according to the engineers, on account of advancing costs of construction.

Why State Objected to Plan.

When the railroad had placed the estimated cost of construction and land and property damages before the commission, the Department of Public Works was asked for comment. The two schemes were objected to by the department on the grounds that a more economical plan could be devised. It was also suggested that the sidewalk could be carried through the underpass at a slightly higher level than the roadway by means of a separate subway through the abutments of the underpass. This could be accomplished by means of hollow abutments. The roadway according to the plans would be 38 feet wide. The department objected to a center line of columns in the subway and suggested that he underpass be supported on a single 38 foot span without center columns. This the department considered would relieve a dangerous condition caused by any center columns.

Railroad Denies Plan Is Dangerous.

Mr. Brennan for the railroad objected to the statement that a center line of supporting columns would be dangerous and stated that such construction was used in many places and was not considered dangerous.

Mr. Burleigh for the state department stated that he believed a study should be made to see if a plan could not be devised depressing only the center part of the roadway without taking any property on the side. This would reduce the cost. He also thought it would be advisable to retain a high level roadway over the underpass to connect Railroad avenue and Greenkill avenue.

County Objects to Both Plans.

County Attorney Robert G. Groves for the county stated that due to the conditions in the county at present he felt that the county could not stand the cost of the project now. Flood damages which probably would cost the county nearly $2,000,000 had to be relieved and the county did not feel at present able to shoulder its share of the cost of any elimination and therefore went on record as being opposed to both plans offered.

All schemes should be given due consideration, said Mr. Groves, but the serious burden on the taxpayers caused by the recent damage to highways and bridges by flood at present looked as though the county could not now take up any additional burden. The county feels that both of the elimination schemes involve such a large amount, that at present at least the county must oppose the infliction of any additional burden on the taxpayers.

City Also Makes Objection.

Corporation Counsel Flemming for the city, in accordance with a resolution passed by the common council, also entered his opposition to the two schemes presented. Any plan to eliminate Broadway crossing depression of Broadway and stated his views as in favor of the depression of tracks and thus the elimination of all crossing at once.

ing by Depression Broadway, he said, would be opposed until it became apparent that the cost of depressing the railroad tracks was out of the question. The city desires that the crossing be eliminated by the depression of the tracks of the railroad if that plan is at all practical.

Mr. Brennan for the railroad said

Mr. Fleming suggested that the present proceeding be held in abeyance until such time as a study can be made of the cost of depressing the railroad tracks and the entire elimination of grade crossings in the city.

Other Crossings Not on Program.

The Public Service Commission engineer stated that at present the other crossings were not in the case at all and were not on the program and therefore could not be considered. If the city

Should the city or county suggest the elimination of one, a suggested program for such a crossing must be filed with the commission and if approved, then that program would be taken up and given due consideration but at present the only crossing which could be considered in elimination proceedings was the Broadway crossing.

File Program Before October 1.

In order to get other crossings on the program it will be necessary for one or one of the interested parties to file a program for 1929 with the commission before October 1 which will include all of the crossings in the city. If that plan is approved by the commission, then public hearings can be held and the matter taken up for the 1929 program of elimination, but until such a program is suggested and approved by the commission there will be but one crossing considered, the Broadway crossing.

Should the city or the county suggest the 1929 program of the elimination of all grade crossings

Construction contracts amounting to $516,370,200 were awarded last month in 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains, a decline of $66,000,000 from July. F. W. Dodge Corporation reports. The decrease from August 1927, was about $35,000,000. The New England states and the north west were the only two districts showing increases over their July 1928, records. The total for eight months this year reached $4,545,270,100, an increase of six per cent over the corresponding 1927 period.

It is anticipated that at least four or five months will be required to make the study, at the cost of degrading the transit. An estimate of the cost of making such a study will be available to the railroad in about a week and when this cost is known the city and county will be able to act toward making an appropriation to defray a portion of this cost which, it borne by the city, county and rail-

Before adjourning recommendations by the Department of Public Works in regard to changes in schemes A and B, at present before the commission, were made by Mr. Burrell and estimates of the cost of the scheme with these revisions will be made. Should further comment be desired, a further hearing will be held.

Murphy Condemns Present Station.
N. D. J. Murphy stated that there had been reference during the hearing to some facts in regard to the expensive cost of depressing the railroad tracks being partially due to the necessity of relocating the present freight house and erecting a new station.

The freight house, he said, was at present inadequate and it was but a question of time when some new arrangement would have to be made by the railroad. As to the station, he said it was in a terrible condition and the board of health should have stepped in long ago and compelled the railroad to build a new station.

Mr. Burkhardt said that if a new freight house and new station had to be built and were built at any other time the railroad would have to pay for the cost of construction unless it was done in conjunction with that event the cost would have to be eliminated with the elimination of the crossing. He figured in the elimination proceedings and paid for by the city and county in their proportionate share.

Sidewalk in Separate Subway.
The revised plans as suggested by the Department of Public Works will require from two to three weeks to prepare. One of the revisions suggested was the construction of the sidewalk in a separate subway which would need only a head clearance of perhaps eight feet and would thus permit the following of the present sidewalk to a point very close to the railroad tracks instead of commencing

By using one sidewalk along the property line which would drop down as a ramp under the tracks there would be greater width to the roadway under the tracks. With a low level sidewalk along the road-

The hearing was adjourned subject to the call of the chair with the understanding that the city and county will notify the railroad if they agree to stand a part of the expense of a study of the cost of depressing the tracks of the railroad. If such an agreement is made and such a study is undertaken, the commission will be notified and the matter will be held in abeyance pending the completion of the study.

This morning nine guests arrived at the Rip Van Winkle Club at handaken who had made part of the trip from the Columbia Yacht Club in New York city by hydroplane of the Atlantic Airways Company. They left New York about 7 o'clock Friday evening and it took about thirty minutes to fly as far as Newburgh, where, owing to the darkness, the hydroplane alighted in the Hudson river, and the passengers spent the night in that city. This morning the hydroplane flew back to New York and the remainder of of the trip to the Rip Van Winkle Club was made in automobiles.

Work on the reconstruction of the city hall is progressing and it is expected that part of the building will be ready for occupancy about the middle of October. The first city departments to move into the reconstructed building will be police headquarters, the city court and the board of health. Later the other city departments will be moved into their new quarters.

CUBANS SEEK REMEDY FOR TOBACCO ILLNESS

HAVANA, Sept. 15 (AP).—Active steps have been taken by the Cuban sanitation department for the combating of "phthisis" among employees of tobacco factories. "Phthisis" is a plague similar to quick consumption and caused by tobacco dust.

Reports to the sanitation department are said to reveal startling conditions existing among tobacco rollers and workers throughout the island. Health authorities being aroused to threatened peril are taking energetic steps to check and eradicate the plague.

The program tentatively adopted is for compulsory physical examination and issuance of certificates of health to applicants for employment and orders for further investigation of the cigar factories of Cuba.

Busy Month At Woodstock

Many newcomers arrive at the Art Colony for Autumn Days—Sunday Concerts at Maverick Music Hall—Art Show Extended.

Woodstock, Sept. 15.—Fair weather and autumn days are bringing a number of people to the Woodstock art colony; artists are again going afield for their landscape material.

Among newcomers at the colony is S. S. McDermott, who comes from Gloucester and Rockport, where he spent the summer. Helen Pearce returns from Saratoga Springs, where she has been preparing a forthcoming book. Ivan Summers and wife have returned from Rockport, where Mr. Summers painted this past season. John F. Carlson has returned from the Canadian Rockies where he visited the past summer on a painting trip.

S. H. Ayres and wife have returned from Penn. Yarn, N. Y., where they were called this week to attend the funeral of Mr. Ayres's brother.

The Woodstock Art Association has announced that the present special exhibit of drawings, water colors, etchings and lithographs will remain open to the public until September 22, on account of the increased number of visitors to the colony for the month.

Bruce Herrick, school tax collector, has announced that he is receiving collections between September 5 and October 5 at his residence at 1 per cent fees and thereafter at 5 per cent fees.

Another concert has been arranged at the Maverick Music Hall for September 16, when Joseph Emonts, a visiting cellist, will appear for the first time at this place. The program will be given by Collin McPhee, piano; Pierre Henrotte, viola; and Joseph Emonts with cello. A trio from Saint-Saens will be given, also cello solos by Mr. Emonts. A large attendance is expected at this last concert for the 1928 season at the Maverick Music Hall.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Friday afternoon and evening was good and with very little local interference excepting an hour around 6 o'clock. The bread, candy boys, chewing gum, radio, linoleum, shoe, coal and gas boosting programs were all very enjoyable. In fact all of our old friends of the open season for radio advertising are coming back. But where, oh where, is the Laxative Lady? Her voice has not been heard in several months.

This morning reception was unusually good.

CUBANS FOLLOW NOVEL SCHEDULE FOR EATING

HAVANA, Sept. 15 (AP).—The Cuban is perhaps the world's most erratic eater. His morning meal consists of only a cup of strong coffee taken when he first gets up. At about ten o'clock he will have more coffee with buttered toast.

At noon he forgets luncheon and at four o'clock has still more coffee and a light lunch. His real meal comes at night about nine o'clock when dinner is a banquet and attended with all pomp and ceremony. There are no set rules of hours and coffee shops remain open day and night.

HONGKONG APPROACHES MILLION INHABITANTS

Shanghai, Sept. 15 (AP).—The population of Hongkong Island, British colony off the South China coast, is announced to be slightly less than 1,000,000. Of this number but 15,500 are non-Chinese civil population, the remainder being entirely Chinese.

The city of Victoria, commonly known as Hongkong, is announced to have a population of half a million, the others living in outlying districts of the territory. The foreign population increased 3,000 in ten years.

BERMUDA FORESEES BIG FUTURE IN AIR SERVICE

Hamilton, Bermuda, Sept. 15 (AP).—Major R. H. Mayo, of the Imperial Airways of London has been in Bermuda making investigations with reference to the establishment of an airport in the colony.

While he has made no official announcement, he stated at a luncheon at the Rotary Club that it would probably be some time before transatlantic service would be practicable, but that a service between New York and Bermuda might be established at an earlier date.

Movie Show Here

Two women sat together in a motion picture theater, and one of them, who was reading the subtitles aloud to the other, was puzzled when one appeared containing the word "kibitzer." Stopping in perplexity, she said:

"Say, Dolly, what's 'kibitzer'?"

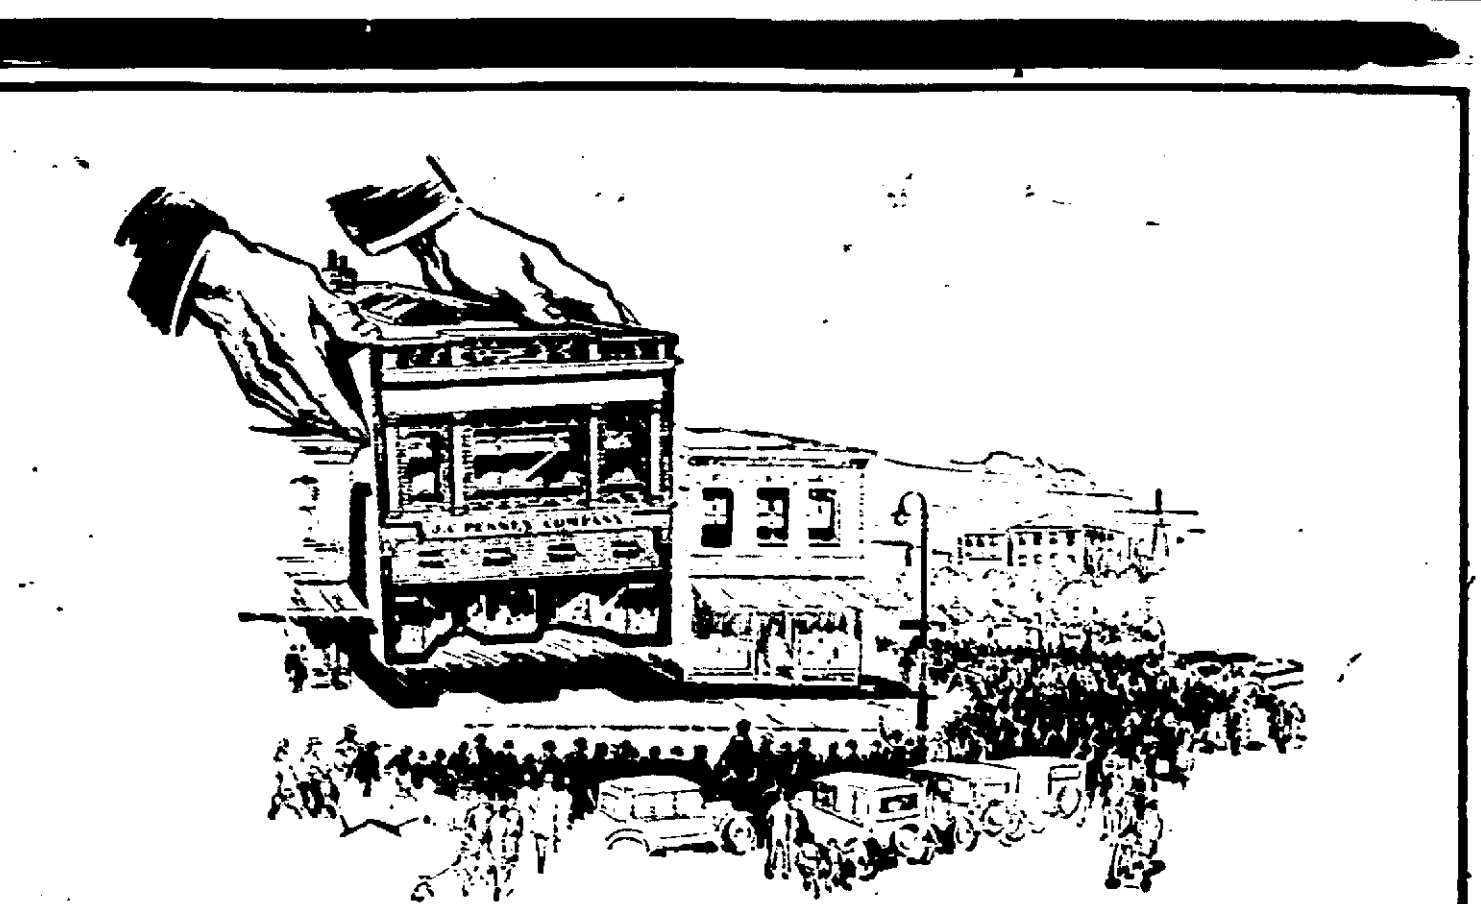

"I'm sure I don't know," Dolly replied.

The puzzled lady was still unsatisfied. Leaning forward, she asked a gentleman sitting in front:

"Pardon me, sir, but do you know what a 'kibitzer' is?"

"Yes, madam," replied the gentleman in front, politely, but firmly. A "kibitzer" is a person who reads the subtitles aloud in a motion picture theater, to the extreme annoyance of others within hearing."

News From the World on Wheels

An unusual increase in the sale of the Falcon-Knight Six is noted since the recent announcement of the executives of the Falcon Motors Corporation that these Knight engined cars are being built to give the owner reasonably trouble-free everyday service for as high as ten years. Sales officials of the company declare that indications are that the announcement of the company, supported by the remarkable performance record of the thousands of Falcon-Knight sixes in the hands of owners throughout the nation would necessitate continued high production of the various models to meet this unusual sales demand.

The Oldsmobile factories are working on the largest September production schedule in the company's history, factory officials announce. The number of cars produced this month will be nearly as many as were produced during the peak months last spring. This high September production follows consecutive months during which Oldsmobile has broken all previous records. More Oldsmobiles were shipped in August 1928 than in any previous August, officials report, and on August 31st all past records for a single day's shipment were broken when 670 Oldsmobiles left the factory.

CHINA WELCOMES ERA OF MOTOR TRANSPORT

Shanghai, Sept. 15 (AP).—Motor transportation is steadily growing in importance and popularity in China.

With the steady but small scale road building programs going on in various parts of China the "horizon" of the motor car is steadily widening and more cars are coming into use. A recent development in this modernization of China is establishment of bus lines in various parts of the country.

Numerous lines have been operating in and out of the larger cities for several years, but now that the nationalists have gained control from Canton to Peking they are sponsoring establishment of additional lines in smaller places. The most recent bus route to be put into operation is one centering at Nanking, the nationalist capital.

The nationalists themselves established this route, buying a fleet of 18 American busses for the line. Other similar projects are under way in other localities.

Bus lines in Shanghai have been popular for years. The International Settlement bus facilities have recently been increased by twenty express busses running from the city suburbs into the heart of the business district.

PAPA JOFFRE SPENDS EVENINGS AT BRIDGE.

Louveciennes, France, Sept. 15 (A).—Marshall Joffre, victor of the Marne and now 73 years of age, has become a bridge fan in his retirement here. Bridge is his favorite distraction since a fall injured his knee and obliged him to stay at home.

The marshal has a few hands of bridge almost every night now with old friends. When he cannot play bridge, he resigns himself to checkers.

Joffre is very much thinner and far from enjoying the robust health of Marshal Foch. He has finished writing his memoirs. But these will not be fully published until after his death and after the death of some of the principal actors in them.

"They are too stark," the old soldier has said.

The victor of the Marne still carries on a certain amount of business. He is chiefly engaged in an advisory capacity on engineering affairs, which was his original work.

His mornings are chiefly occupied by the eastern and Alpine defences of France. Officers still report daily to him before lunch.

U. S. IS TOO GENEROUS PROTESTS FRENCH PAPER

Paris, September 15 (A).—France is grateful for the American millions that have restored her palaces and churches but isn't it time, asks Le Petit Parisien for the French to do that for themselves?

The fortunes given by Rockefeller and others, it is recalled, saved the palace at Versailles, the Rheims cathedral and many less important things of beauty and historical interest. The whole country is appreciative, says the newspaper, for "what would have become of them without the generosity of a Rockefeller?" And it adds that it causes some embarrassment to think that foreigners were the ones who furnished the funds.

The war is accepted as an excuse but "since we have been able to restore our finances without borrowing outside, let us try hereafter to restore our palaces and our cathedrals and to show that we appreciate their high significance."

AIR MAIL PILOTS FALL AMONG WILD TRIBESMEN

Rabat, Morocco, Sept. 15 (A).—Two French aviators, forced down two months ago while carrying mail from South America, are still prisoners of wild African tribesmen.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Smooth, Unbroken Hipline Brings Yoke Into Prominence.

New York—It is not always the case that the rank and file of French houses think alike. There are often amusing contradictions and after viewing a collection which seems to give the lie to another, one is conscious of bewilderment.

This season finds all the forces of fashion lined up to preserve contour of the hipline. There are differences as to the placement of the waistline, but little excitement concerning its ups and downs.

The one point on which everyone is insistent is that the hipline shall be revealed, and to this end has come the fitted yoke and the closely draped girdle. Where the yoke or the girdle is omitted, it is usually because the skirt is circular, and by the very nature of its design accents the desired of these are lined in Lido blue or flesh chiffon. Nearly all have the fitted yoke, not only for effect but because it helps preserve the greatly to be coveted smooth hipline. Black georgette, colored, too, for that matter, must be given its proper recognition among lingerie novelties. (Copyright, 1928, by United Features Syndicate, Inc.)

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Comfortable Suit for a Small Boy.

6211. Cotton broadcloth in blue or tan would be good for this development. The collar and facings may be in white or other contrasting color. The smock is buttoned under the shaped facing at the neck below a comfortable collar. Short sleeves and "shorts" trousers make this style just right for warm weather. A convenient pocket trims the front of the smock, and real boy pockets are fitted into the trousers at the side opening. The trousers also have a fly.

This pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. To make this suit for a 3 year size will require 1 1/2 yard of 36 inch material. For facings on collar, cuffs, overlap and pocket of contrasting material 1/4 yard is required 36 inches wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1928 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

BUGGY RIDING IS STILL POPULAR IN DEAUVILLE

Deauville, France, Sept. 15 (A).—The open victoria, drawn by a horse and driven by a coachman, is still flourishing here.

The residents of Deauville, who do not own their own automobiles consider a horse and coachman far more chic than a for hire motor. As a result horses are sleek and well fed and carriages have clean, betasseled canopies and seat covers.

Boy Scout Activity In Ulster County

Judging from the enthusiasm displayed at a meeting of the Ulster County Council, Boy Scouts of America, held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday evening, Scouting will certainly make striking advancement in many directions in the immediate future.

There are many signs of activity and increased interest in the program of character building and citizenship training which Scouting offers.

Scout Executive Smith presented his report of the Boy Scout Camp which in some respects was the most successful of any which the Council has conducted.

Plans for a court of honor and examining board were made. A training course for Scout leaders will be conducted in the near future.

Those present were very optimistic regarding the future of Scouting in Ulster county.

Mr. Smith has just returned from the Fifth Biennial Conference of Scout Executives held at Cornell University, September 5 to 12. Nearly one thousand executives and assistants gathered for a week's intensive study of the problems connected with Scouting. The general theme of the conference was "The Volunteer in Scouting." Some of the leading educators and business men of the country gave addresses and led the discussions. Among these were: Dr. John H. Finley, Walter W. Head, Mortimer L. Schiff, Dr. Henry P. Fairchild and Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

The major presentations on the morning programs gave the results of special studies by a number of commissions of experienced Scout executives. Several hundred successful executives cooperated with the several commission chairmen in contributing to the content of the reports. These commissions carried over from the previous conference. Fourteen new commissions were assigned to the study of the many phases of the relation of the volunteer to Scouting.

Some of the commissions reported on such subjects as the following: "Analysis of the Scoutmaster and His Job in Terms of Scouting Objectives," "Developing the Scoutmaster's Effectiveness Through Progressive Local Council Training Program," "Character Values of Scouting and How Obtained" and "Dividends of Scouting as Revealed by Established Facts."

A remarkable exhibit of projects and equipment was shown and an interesting outdoor program was arranged. Every executive who attended this conference must have received inspiration and practical suggestions which should aid materially in building for bigger and better Scouting on his particular field.

Co-Operation
Co-operation has been described as "making yourself fit for others to work with." Let us therefore take advantage of this privilege to prepare ourselves to labor in harmony with others, to the end that all may be benefited.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—Revival of activity and strength in the railroad market featured the resumption of the upward price movement in today's stock market. Despite the absence of many traders because of the Jewish religious holiday, trading was in substantially large volume for a half holiday session. The day's sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Buying of the rails was influenced by predictions of unusually heavy crop movement in the last quarter of the year. St. Louis Southwestern Common, a non-dividend payer, advanced 4 1/2 points to a new peak at 110. New York Central and Canadian Pacific each advanced 3 points and Missouri Pacific common, New Haven, Chicago Northwestern, Erie and Consolidated Railways of Cuba preferred sold 2 or more points each.

Motor products was the spectacular individual feature, soaring 26 points to a new high record at 190 as against the year's low of 94 established less than three months ago. Warner Brothers common and a stocks extended their early gains to 8 and 7 points respectively. Commercial solvents jumped 7 1/2 points and Columbia Carbon moved up more than 4 to a new peak price at 192 1/2.

Extreme gains of 3 to 4 points were recorded by Houston Oil, Stanley Company of America, Fox Film, Union Carbide, Montgomery Ward, Calumet and Arizona, California Packing and Warren Brothers.

The closing was strong.

Candidates Ready to Carry Campaign Into East and West

Mayor Will Speak at Newark and Jersey Cities Beginning Monday—Smith Begins Western Swing With Speech at Omaha Tuesday.
(By Byron Price, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP)—East and west now share the spotlight of presidential politics as the two nominees make ready to quit their headquarters and carry their campaign to the country.

For both Smith and Hoover the present week has been one of preparation for a venture on non-traditional ground. Choosing to begin his real campaigning almost within hail of the sidewalks of New York, Hoover will speak Monday at Newark, and swing round the circle of other nearby New Jersey cities. On Tuesday Smith will begin a western swing with a speech at Omaha, just on the border-line of his rival's native Iowa.

Quite aside from what they say, the nominees will each have his chance to show the extent of his personal resourcefulness in the broader field upon which he is entering.

High Spots in Week's Campaign.
Hoover's week at Washington has been given over largely to conferences with his friends and supporters. One of those with whom he talked longest was President Coolidge, back from his Wisconsin vacation and ready to help the new leader of his party toward victory.

Smith, also receiving advice at Albany from many quarters, took time to scotch "a life in the whispering campaign." In direct and dramatic fashion he furnished the country with documentary evidence that there was no truth in a privately-circulated story that he had been intoxicated at the Syracuse Fair. It was his first open thrust at "whispering," a subject about which many of his Democratic colleagues have been talking for weeks.

The Governor's most unusual statement was the second extraordinary contribution within the week to the literature of the campaign of 1928. The first was a public pronouncement by Republican Chairman Work, saying that no self-respecting party headquarters would countenance the sort of personal attacks that have been made covertly against both candidates.

Usual Debate on Maine Result.
The eastern highlight this week was the tremendous Republican sweep in the Maine election, producing the greatest majorities in history. The usual debate as to the national significance of the result now is in progress, with about the usual fervor.

But there is a disposition in both parties to wonder at the falling off of the total vote, and party leaders are asking themselves whether many dry Democrats did not stay at home on Election Day, and if so, what that indicates as to the nation itself in November.

Realignments in Both Parties.
Further realignments have taken place in the more restless west, where Smith presumably is to make his supreme bid for the farm vote during the remaining days of September. In the state where he will deliver his first speech the Nebraska Federation of Labor has voted him "100 per cent the friend of labor."

In the same state, Mark Woods, a leader in the effort to stop Hoover at Kansas City, has come down from the fence on Hoover's side, while to the north the Democratic juncture with the non-partisan wing of the Republican party of North Dakota seems to have been promoted by the decision of Governor Maddock, who was chairman of the state's delegation to the Republican national convention, to run for re-election as a Democrat.

In Minnesota public discussion of a swing to Smith continues, whether it has the votes behind it or not, and in Republican Iowa surprising rumors have reached Republican state officials, and they began a thorough canvass of the whole state situation.

Women's Vote Receives Attention.
The nation-wide campaign to organize the women for Hoover gained a recruit in the National Women's Party, which declared the Republican nominee best from the viewpoint of the equal rights crusade. With many Democratic women, including three recent national committee-women, the women's vote is one to which Democratic managers are giving increasing attention. They have taken one of their best soldiers, Mrs. Nellie T. Ross—out of the service of supplies in New York headquarters and sent her out on the firing line. She will stump the south and border states with the best of them up to election day.

UNDERWOOD CONTINUES ATTACK ON KU KLUX KLAN.
Alexandria, Va., Sept. 15 (AP)—Still striking out at the Ku Klux Klan with undiminished vigor, former Senator Underwood of Alabama last night declared that organization to be the "left wing" of the Hoover campaign.

He spoke at the Fairfax county fair which today observes Klan Day, with meetings of the Klan during the day and this evening. Senator Heflin, Underwood's former colleague in the senate, is billed as a speaker.

"I wonder," Underwood said, "how Mr. Hoover will feel when some morning he wakes up and sends for Adjutant General Work and says to him: 'General Work, present my regards to General Evans (Hiram Evans of the Klan), commander of the left wing, and direct him to take the North Carolina salient at daybreak.'"

"Mr. Hoover will not feel right when he says this. He would be reluctant to deliver the order, but entirely willing to accept the result."

Underwood described Hoover as the candidate of "organized wealth," attacked religious intolerance and denounced church participation in politics.

Robinson Blames Religious Issue

Smith Within Democratic Ranks—Will Never Forsake Methodist Church.

Robinson Special Car En Route to Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—The Democratic standard was carried today by Senator Joe Robinson to the most southern of the Atlantic seaboard states which for year after year adhered to the political creed of Jefferson and Jackson.

Turning from Georgia for a few days the Democratic vice presidential nominee moved on Florida prepared to continue his attack upon those who are opposing Governor Smith because of his membership in the Catholic Church. He will speak tonight in Jacksonville and then, after resting up in Miami on Sunday, will deliver an address in that city Monday night.

As has been the case all the way down the coast, Robinson in Savannah after the reading of a prepared speech denouncing the Republican record in Washington had been concluded, turned again to the religious issue.

While his audience, many with coats off, fanned mostly with newspapers and hat, the senator last night declared it was his opinion that the religious issue was responsible for what opposition had developed in the party's ranks to the Democratic standard bearer.

Referring to the charge that Governor Smith had been intoxicated at a recent state fair in Syracuse, N. Y., the senator read a "denial of the charge carried in the press two days ago from George R. Fearon, a Republican member of the New York General Assembly."

"I wish every man, woman and child in the country," he said, "would adopt the example set by this Republican for honest dealing with political opponents."

Attacking what he describes as the "whispering campaign," he added that a report had reached him that somebody in Georgia had vouched the statement that he had left the Methodist Church.

"The Methodist Church might quit me," he continued, "but I'll never forsake her."

Athletics In Germany Displace Militarism

Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, Sept. 15 (AP).—Converting erstwhile soldiers into athletes is one way of demonstrating that monarchism and militarism in Germany have given way to democracy and pacifism.

One of the most striking differences between imperial and republican Germany is the passionate enthusiasm with which athletics have been taken up by all classes of German society since the war.

The "turnverleide" of imperial days were limited to a small group, mostly of middle class people. The broad masses of the population were not attracted by them. It was considered an unusual spectacle when in 1913 a national field day assembled 13,000 athletes on one spot.

Less than ten years later, in 1922, the workers' athletic union of Germany staged its first national and international field day at Leipzig. The German units alone sent 50,000 contestants, not to speak of 10,000 who came from neighboring countries.

Since then Frankfurt has built a municipal stadium and athletic grounds considered to be the finest in Germany. The workers' athletic day was therefore held here this year. The Frankfurt grounds are located in a municipal forest and include tennis grounds, race tracks, swimming basins, children's playgrounds, bleachers. No other city in Europe can boast of such perfect equipment.

But Frankfurt is by no means alone. Berlin, Hamburg, Munich, Dresden, Cologne, Dortmund, to mention but a few, offer splendid facilities for athletic participation by rich and poor, professional and dilettant. North and South American athletes visiting Germany are usually quite amazed when they see how the whole German nation is going in for sports.

The workers' athletic union alone has over a million members. It publishes six sports magazines, conducts a school for the training of teachers of physical culture, and owns the largest athletic goods store in Germany. Among its sub-sections there are clubs of bicycle enthusiasts, clubs for so-called light athletics (dash, broad jump, shot putting), football teams, wrestling teams and, more recently, boxing clubs. In cities located on or near lakes or rivers there are workers' rowing clubs. The prime object throughout is not primarily that of establishing records or even of winning out in competition. Emphasis is laid rather upon having as many workers as possible participate and reap the benefits to be gained from bodily exercise.

What is true of the organized workers is true of other sections of German society; everywhere athletics is indulged in with an enthusiasm which one could hardly have imagined possible ten years ago.

Football had a rather hard time of it winning favor among the Germans, as did boxing, because these forms of athletics were considered too brutal. Now they are quite the vogue, football is only the ragby variety, never association football.

Post Office-City Win Second Half of Industrial League

By Defeating the U. & D. Schillings.
3-0. In Fast Game—Waco Peters
Holds Opponents to Two Hits and Gets Two Hits Himself.

The Postoffice-City players clinched first place in the second round of the Industrial League Friday when they shut out the U. & D. Schillings, 3-0, at the Athletic Field, and are now entitled to meet the U. & D. Schillings winners of the first half, for the championship of the Industrial League.

Waco Peters, pitching for the P. O.-City, allowed the losers but two hits, one coming in the first inning and the other in the second. His opponent was Jack Long, whose regular position is at second base. Long gave Peters a good battle for five innings and they were battling on even terms until he uncorked a wild pitch which allowed the winning run to score.

The U. & D. Schillings threatened to score in the first inning when they had two men on the sacks, but a fast double play, engineered by Peters, snuffed their rally. In the second they advanced a man to third but he was also stranded.

The Postoffice-City had men on in the second and third, but it was not until the fifth that they scored, and then it was due to Long's wild pitch. Peters tripled to start the inning, F. Bruhn was given a walk, and Davitt hit to Hornbeck, who threw Peters out at home. F. Bruhn taking third. Long then made his bad peg and F. Bruhn scored.

Pete Jordan called the game in the sixth inning on account of darkness, but not until the Postoffice-City had sent two runners across the rubber. In this inning Robins singled, and advanced to second on Schwab's sacrifice bunt. L. Bruhn was passed. Robins then stole third and home, completing a double steal with L. Bruhn. Lynch and Peters singled and L. Bruhn tallied.

First Series Game Monday Night

The little "world series" of the Industrial League, which brings together the U. & D. Schillings, winner of the first half, and the Postoffice-City, winner of the second, will begin Monday evening at the Athletic Field at 6:45 sharp. Walt Black is slated to do the pitching for the U. & D. Schillings with Hank Smedes receiving; while "Waco" Peters will toss them over for the Postoffice-City with Jack Robins doing the receiving.

ROUNDOUTS SLATED TO MEET MECHANICS SUNDAY

One game other than the stellar attraction between the Blue Sox and Pan-Ams at the Kingston Fair Grounds will be played here Sunday afternoon. The Roundout A. C. is scheduled to meet the Junior Order of United American Mechanics at Block Park. The Seventh Ward team was at first slated to mix it with Wilbur but enough players could not be gathered to represent that place, so the meeting was called off, and the Mechanics were booked by Manager Artie Golick of the Roundouts. Peters or Coughlin will do the pitching for the Roundouts. Cautiz or Dietz will be on the mound for the Mechanics.

ALL-STARS SCHEDULED TO BATTLE AT FLEISCHMANN'S

Manager John McCordle of the Kingston All-Stars will take his boys to Fleischmann's Sunday afternoon where they will oppose the representatives of that place on the mountain community diamond. Randy Winston, who plans to leave for the south in a few days, will bowl for the Stars. It will be his last appearance on the mound in these parts this season. Dewey Van Buren is scheduled to oppose him.

Tagging Major League Bases

By Herbert W. Barker
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the New York Giants could spend the remainder of the baseball season in Boston there would be nothing to this National League pennant struggle.

Eight times in four playing days did the Giants smash the hapless Braves into defeat and in so doing boosted themselves into a position only one game distant from the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals. A longer stay in Boston is impossible, however, so the Giants return to Cogan's Bluff today to face the Brooklyn Dodgers in a single game and then take on the four powerful western clubs in succession. It is scarcely likely they will find these teams as docile as the Braves.

Before the New York team invaded Boston those four successive double-headers with the Braves gave the Giant management a headache every time they came in mind. By sweeping the series the Giants established a new major league record for victories in consecutive double-headers, and turned what looked like a burly obstacle to their pennant hopes into a rung by which they might climb to a threatening position in the standings.

Good pitching by Freddy Fitzsimmons and Jack Scott gave the Giants both ends of the final twin ball yesterday, 6 to 2 and 5 to 1. The second game being called in the eighth because of darkness. The Braves got only six hits in each game while the Giants collected 22 during the day. Scott and Fitzsimmons both had won previous games in this same series.

The Cardinals kept danger from growing into actual disaster yesterday by turning back the Phillies, 10 to 6. The Cards put the game on ice in the fifth inning when Jimmy Rink and Bob McGraw walked six men in succession. This generosity, coupled with a sacrifice and Harper's double, gave the leaders six runs.

Back of Burleigh Grimes' deadly effectiveness in the pinches, the Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 1, and tightened their hold on fourth place. Grimes was touched for 11 hits but the Reds could not reach him in the pinches. It was the husky righthander's 24th victory of the year and his 26th complete game. Paul Waner socked Red pitching for a single, double and a triple.

Only one game was played in the American League, the St. Louis Browns losing to the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4, in spite of Heinie Manush's ferocious hitting. The 1926 league batting champion drove in two runners ahead of him with a home run in the first inning and scored the other after he tripled in the eighth. But the Browns made five errors and Manush's hitting couldn't atone for them. Reynolds got four hits for the Sox.

Even Steen

"The alchemist can always find a balance in the scheme of life," said George Bernard Shaw. "A throng of the rich, idly draped over the luxuries of a fashionable London hotel caused a friend of mine to remark scornfully: 'These rich people make me sick, just sitting around doing nothing. What is the use of having money if you don't know how to enjoy it?' 'But why not about it, old chap?' I replied. 'Are you any better off? What is the use of knowing how to enjoy money if you haven't any?'"

Waner-Hornsby In Batting Duel

New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—With just two more weeks of the championship season remaining, Paul Waner and Rogers Hornsby are locked in the greatest batting duel in the National League has been in a decade. According to averages issued today and including games of last Wednesday, the Pittsburgh flash is leading the Boston manager by eight points, .352 to .337, but the flash will not give up the prospective crown without a struggle.

The older Waner leads the league not only in batting but also in runs scored with 139, in hits with 211 and in doubles with 46. In addition, he is tied with Jim Bottomley of St. Louis for the top in triples, each having 15. Bottomley has batted home the greatest number of runs, 118.

The Waner-Bottomley monopoly is broken only in home run hitting, where Hack Wilson of Chicago leads with 39, and in stolen bases, where Kiki Cuyler of Chicago shows the way with 30. Bottomley is home run runner-up with 28. No batters are anywhere near the two leaders, who will fight down the stretch for the championship. Other prominent regulars are: Lindstrom, New York, .350; Sisler, Boston, .347; Hafey and Roettger, St. Louis, .341; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .340; Herman, Brooklyn, .339; Bottomley, St. Louis, and L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .334, and Hogan, New York, .333.

Larry Benton remains monarch of all the pitchers. He is the leading regular in percentage, having won 23 and lost only 6 for .793, and has the almost unprecedented total of 25 complete games. Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh has hurled 25 complete contests and also has won 23 games, but against Benton's half dozen defeats, the big Pittsburgh spit-baller is charged with 13, pulling his percentage down to .639.

Only in shut-outs does Benton yield. Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn, Red Lucas of Cincinnati, Sheriff Blake of Chicago and Grimes share the lead in that endeavor, each having four.

Carl Mays, now with the Giants, tops the New York ace in percentage, but has worked in only four complete games, winning four and losing one. Second to Benton is his teammate, Fred Fitzsimmons, who has taken seventeen and lost only eight for .680. Four regulars are tied for third honors, each with a percentage of .667 but with varying numbers of victories and defeats.

Vance has won 20 and lost 10. Jess Haines of St. Louis has taken 16 while dropping eight, and Art Nehf and Guy Bush of Chicago have scored twelve successes each against six reverses.

In team batting Pittsburgh again lands on top, this time with the amazing mark of .314, just twenty points more than the second-place Giants. St. Louis is third with .285 and Cincinnati fourth with .280.

The Cubs shade the Cardinals by a point, .975 to .974, in team fielding, with the Reds one point below the St. Louisans and the Giants a point below the Reds. Cincinnati now has 175 double plays, a new National League record, and is heading for a new major league mark, now held by Washington with 182.

CLOSING RACES TODAY

AT BELMONT PARK.

New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—Amid a shower of gold unrivaled in American turf history, Belmont Park's racing season comes to an end today. Close to $200,000 will be distributed to the winners of the three features of the closing card—the futurity, worth approximately $125,000; the gold cup, carrying a purse of $15,000, and the Grand National Steeplechase, $35,000 added.

Twenty-five two-year-olds are eligible for the futurity. E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur, winner of the Juvenile Stakes, National Stallion Stakes and the Saratoga Special, rated at 5 to 2, is the favorite, but his old rival, Jack High, owned by George A. Widener, is a close second choice at 4 to 1. Double Heart, owned by W. T. Wagners, winner of the western two-year old championship last week, may spring a surprise. Jack High, Blue Larkspur and Double Heart will carry top weight of 130 pounds.

Reigh Count will be thoroughly tested in the Gold Cup, at two miles. The Kentucky Derby winner has never gone this distance and Chance Shot or Diavolo, among others, are expected to give Mrs. John D. Hertz's great three year old a terrific struggle.

Ten leading jumpers are in the Grand National, richest of American jumping events.

DEFER ACTION ON TILDEN'S APPLICATION

New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—The "black sheep" of tennis still remains outside the fold. The executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association last night tabled Big Bill Tilden's application for reinstatement as an amateur. The next meeting of the committee is not scheduled until December, and unless a special meeting, an unprecedented thing, is called there is no possibility of Tilden's reinstatement before the end of the outdoor season.

Tilden was suspended on charges of violating the association's amateur rule by his newspaper articles on the Wimbledon championships, in which he was a competitor. He made formal application to have this suspension withdrawn and at last night's meeting the 13 members present voted unanimously to defer action.

The Lucky One

Perhaps they call him the best man in the game, but he escapes after the race.

Leaders in the American League

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP).—While Lou Gehrig and Waite Hoyt were engaged in the serious business of repulsing Connie Mack's Athletics, "Goose" Goslin of Washington and General Alvin Crowder, St. Louis mound ace, scratched the respective leads in the race for individual batting and pitching honors in the American League.

Unofficial averages, including games of Wednesday, show Goslin, who had slipped from the top the week before, again in front with an average of .374, while Gehrig slumped to a week's average of .359, has season's mark falling to .379. Hoyt won one game and lost two, while Crowder won one and took the lead with a record of 17 won and 2 lost. "Lefty" Grove, Athletic star, also went ahead of Hoyt even though he lost one game. He won another.

Meanwhile the Athletics tied the Yankees for the first time this season in team batting with .296. All other leaders held their pace.

Babe Ruth, who seems to have sacrificed his home run penchant for singles, was the only one of the leading ten batters in the circuit to hold his average during the week. The Bambino, who was in ninth place last week, is now in sixth with a mark of .333, 41 points behind Goslin.

The leading hitters and their averages:

Goslin, Washington, .374; Gehrig, New York, .379; Manush, St. Louis, .344; Simmons, Philadelphia, .334; Lazzari, New York, .354; Ruth, New York, .333; Fox, Philadelphia, .328; Cobb, Philadelphia, .327; J. Sewell, Cleveland, and Bishop, Philadelphia, .326.

Of the three leading pitchers, Grove appears to have the best chance to finish in front as he has won 22 and lost 7 up to and including last Wednesday. Another loss by Hoyt or Crowder and a victory for him would put him in front. Hoyt's record is 18 won and 6 lost.

Other leaders:

Team fielding, Boston, .974; double plays, Cleveland, 175; runs, New York, 788; fewest opponents' runs, Philadelphia, 565; individual runs, Ruth, New York, 147; at-bats, Manush, St. Louis, 41; triples, Manush, 16; home runs, Ruth, 49; stolen bases, Myer, Boston, 25.

Oilmen and Sox Ready for Battle

The stage is set for the hectic battle between the Pan-Ams and the Blue Sox baseball teams at the Fair Grounds, Sunday afternoon. The tilt will start at 3:30. Preparations are being made to handle one of the largest turnouts ever to visit the local ball park.

Managers Bill McNally and Joe Tomasek of the Pan-Ams and Blue Sox respectively are both confident of a win. The mentors have not been silent concerning the session, and followers of the teams are as keen as the managers to get the teams in action, owing to the forecast that plenty of action is to mark the game.

Plenty of rivalry exists between the players. Every member of the teams has been practicing to get in tip-top form for the engagement, while the coaches have been brushing the boys up on the finer points of the national sport. Dick Johnson of the Blue Sox and Sheriff Artie Rice, who coaches the Pan-Ams, have been kept busy answering questions and supervising workouts on the diamond. Both these men are famous hereabouts for their work on the diamond in bygone days and their aid to the clubs is expected to put plenty of action in the game.

The Pan-Ams and Blue Sox are now even in a three-game series. The oilmen took the first tilt 3-2 and in a recent battle for the benefit of the American Legion Drum Corps, the Sox came out on top of a 7-6 tally. The Legionnaires in a letter of thanks to the teams for their services heartily endorsed the playing of both and predicted that Sunday's tilt will be a game worth seeing.

Semi-Finals in National Tennis

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP).—Three Americans and one Frenchman shared the semi-final bracket in the national tennis championship tournament today but this was not taken by any means as meaning that France has only one chance in four of gathering in Uncle Sam's proudest court title for the third successive year.

The solitary son of France still in the running is Henri Cochet and he is the favorite today, as he was when the tournament got under way on Monday, despite the fact that Frank Hunter, George Lott and Frank Shields remain to block his path to the title his countryman, Rene Paocost, won for the last two years and now has let go by default.

Unless little Henri, who appears to have developed something of a temperament of late, lets the naturally enthusiastic rooting of a strongly partisan American crowd set on his nerves, he still is a stand-out to win the title. His sterling game received another testing yesterday and he emerged with flying colors when, resuming play in a match which was halted with the score 6-4, 0-1, against him because of rain on Thursday, he romped to easy victory over Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.

Nerves quite obviously handicapped the youthful Mangin, a 20 year old sophomore at Georgetown with a national tennis ranking of only 26th, but nerves also seemed to bother Cochet.

Whereas Mangin's trepidation came from a more or less sleepless night resulting from realization that he had a chance to beat the great Cochet, Henri's trouble was too much concern with doings of the court. Despite his long experience under the fire of international competition, Cochet let such an accident as the posting of a wrong score on the board and the consequent hooting of the crowd disturb him.

STRONG PITCHING STAFF OF ROBINS

No-Fault of Hurlers That Dodgers Are Low.

If you can't understand why the Brooklyn Dodgers are hovering so close to the first division, consider their pitching staff. If it isn't the best in the National League it will do until a better one comes along.

Pitching has been carrying the Dodgers along in the face of some of the most weird fielding ever seen on a major league diamond. Harvey Hendrick, an outfielder, is playing third base. Babe Herman, a first baseman, is playing in the outfield. Luke Breessler, sometime pitcher and first baseman, is holding down another outfield post. So the Dodgers rank sixth in the National league fielding averages with a mediocre percentage of .933.

Manager Wilbert Robinson made those shifts in the hope of developing a more potent attack. But Brooklyn's clobbering is nothing to get enthusiastic about.

That brings us to the pitchers. First, there is Dazzy Vance. So many have sung the song of the Dazzler that his fame is established wherever baseball is known. He is the sort of a pitcher around whom legends grow. Twenty years from now when baseball experts call the role of the great pitchers of our generation they are likely to name three—Johnson, Alexander and Vance.

Next to Vance comes Jess Petty, whose hair is streaked with gray but whose arm is strong and cunning. Pushed himself into the big leagues by virtue of his peerless pitching for Indianapolis in the American association. He has had his troubles with club discipline but is a lot of help to the Robins.

On paper Doug McWeeny seems the best man on the staff. So far this year he has registered at a .667 rate. The Robins seem to like him for McWeeny than they do for any other pitcher. The only reason Douc cannot be listed among the best pitchers of all time is that occasionally he allows his Irish temper to get away from him.

Janbo Elliott is the big disappointment. Robinson was banking heavily on him at the start of the season, but Elliott simply has failed to win regularly.

Watson Clark, responding to some careful acting, is on the winning side of the ledger and is hurting consistent ball.

The strongest case of all is that of Old Bill Doak. Robinson carries him largely to pitch against just one team—the Cincinnati Reds. Doak can beat the Reds anytime he chooses but is often ineffective against other teams.

Ehrhardt, Koupal and Moss are being used chiefly for relief work. Back of the success of the Dodgers' pitchers is Uncle Wilbert Robinson, who has no peer when it comes to handling hurlers.

Today's Work

Every young life that fronts the world is a power, and is here for a purpose. Take stock of yourself and of your possibilities, not only for some far-off future, but for the here and now of daily life. No one will ever do much with the years to come who has not learned to do much with the days that are here.

Domestic Adjustments

It is not a bad guess, says a prominent medical authority, that 5 per cent of the better educated women in America find it very hard to adjust themselves to the duties and limitations of domesticity.—Women's Home Companion.

Golf Champions Meet in Finals

Bobby Jones Has to Beat Phil Perkins, British Champion, to Be Crowned Amateur King for the Fourth Time.

Newton, Mass., Sept. 15 (AP).—The recipe for winning the national open golf championship held true today for the national amateur. All a golfer has to do to win either is to beat Bobby Jones. The champion came to the finals with all his fellow Americans out of the picture and only a slim Briton, who can match Bobby's deadly artistry of approach shots, standing between him and his re-election as champion. He had only to beat Phil Perkins to be crowned amateur king for the fourth time. As for opens—at home and abroad—he has been one-two in eight of the last nine he has entered.

The British challenger, champion of his country's far flung golfing realm, has carried British calm plus in his golf bag in this championship and has revealed himself a truly great golfer—a far cry from the No. 1 man of the British Walker Cup team whose game collapsed against Captain Jones in the Walker Cup matches at Wheaton.

Perkins has sized up the holes from behind his spectacles and sent his ball closer to the pin more consistently than any other player in the competition. He has putted well throughout and sensationally at times—to the astonishment of the Brae Burn caddies who have watched him get his long putts down with a cigarette in the corner of his mouth as they wondered how he kept the smoke out of his eyes.

To advance to the real shot at the championship, Perkins had to play great golf to stop George Voigt, medalist in the tournament, who made a fight of the semi-finals after he was off to a bad start. Although Perkins was four up early in the day, George took him to luncheon only one down and finally squared the match at the second hole of the afternoon round.

Before George could realize that he at last had overhauled his tough opponent from overseas, Perkins unrolled a string of threes and fours before which even the sensational Voigt finally was rendered helpless. He succumbed six and four.

England Faces Epochal Issues
Including Religion and Tariff

London, Sept. 15 (P).—Farmer Stanley Baldwin, by avocation prime minister of England, knows all there is to know about pigs. But he can't tell from the length of a frog's hind legs how far that tantalizing little animal can jump.

If he could do that he would be the happiest man in Britain, because only such depth of perspicacity would enable him, or anybody else, to forecast what is going to happen to him and his conservative majority in the general election which is now brewing.

The big guns of the campaign are getting into action, and an interesting sidelight is the personal competition between Farmer Stanley Baldwin, and former Premier Lloyd George, the Liberal leader, who is proud of his Welsh birthright. The little Welsh Napoleon is posing for his picture as he stands by a big looking down knowingly at a huge pig; and farmer Stanley has invaded Lloyd George's native hills and tried to speak Welsh.

The latest and most surprising development is that religion may play a part in the election, thereby getting into politics for the first time in many years. The prayer book controversy, which has divided the Church of England into two camps and has left the venerable Archbishop of Canterbury a broken hearted man, has already cropped up in the political field.

Certain Anglo-Catholics are planning to run a candidate in an effort to defeat Home Secretary Sir William Joynson Hicks, who is leader of the anti-Anglo-Catholic members of the Church of England. Sir William has expressed regret that religion should get into politics, but at the same time has issued warning that if he is opposed on religious grounds in his constituency there will be reprisals elsewhere.

The religious question, however, is not a party issue. If it arises it probably will be through individual effort. It could hardly be taken cognizance of in any party platform.

The main issues, so far as they have developed, are:
To put it bluntly, the class warfare which is being waged between labor and the so-called "vested interests", or upper-classes.

The highly important question of protection versus free-trade.
The grievous unemployment problem, and the slump which has hit many industries so hard, especially the coal trade.

Perhaps the most puzzling aspect of the situation is how some 15,000,000 women voters, about 5,000,000 of whom are newly enfranchised, will cast their ballots. Many a homely politician is at this moment wishing he were a "sheik". Incongruous as it may seem, the free-trade issue is likely to affect the feminine vote materially.

Protection versus free-trade bids fair to loom large, although the conservatives as a whole wish to avoid it. The premier and his party are mainly protectionists; the laborites and the Liberals are free-traders.

Mr. Baldwin, having brought his party to disaster in the general election in 1923, by advocating protection, has been forced to accept the mandate of the people and compromise by putting on tariffs for the "safeguarding" of industries, as opposed to tariffs for the purposes of revenue.

CARD PARTY IN PLACE OF NO. 6 P-T. A. LAWN FETE

At a recent meeting of the officers of Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6 held at the home of the president, Mrs. Vernon, it was decided to postpone until next spring, the lawn fete which would have been held this summer but for the unprecedently rainy weather. If there are still people holding tickets for the fete the ladies would much appreciate their turning them in to Mrs. Lane, No. 90 Downs street, who will refund their money. But it is desirable that this be done at once.

In place of the lawn fete the association has decided to hold a card party at the home service auditorium of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation on Field Court, on Monday evening, September 24, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The committee having the card party in charge is composed of Mrs. Homer Emrick, chairman, Mrs. R. H. D. Boerker, Mrs. S. T. Vernon, president of the association, Mrs. E. J. Kelley, treasurer; Mrs. M. P. Lane, secretary; Mrs. F. E. R. A. Haines, Mrs. J. Eymann, Mrs. R. Liscom, Mrs. E. Nolan, Mrs. H. Sharot.

Resourceful

One of the reasons why the cat is supposed to be invested with supernatural powers is because he is so well adapted to take care of himself. Put him in a bag at noon, tie the bag, take him twenty miles from home over country unknown to him, release him from the bag and he will be home in time for supper that same night!

Salvation Army Appeal for $4,500

Herewith are a few of the things accomplished by the Army during the past 12 months:

SPECTACULAR SUCCESS

is proving it 'Chief of the Sixes'

In the tremendous success which Pontiac Six is enjoying is ample reason for designating this great General Motors car 'Chief of the Sixes.' Never has any new car risen so rapidly in the estimation of motor car buyers for during the first six months of 1928, over 136,000 Pontiacs were sold—the largest volume ever achieved by any car during the first half of its third year in production! This great public acceptance tells more of what Pontiac offers at $745 than even the most complete listing of such features as Fisher bodies, 186 cu. in. engine, the G-M-R cylinder head, cross-flow radiator, foot-controlled headlights, coincidental lock, etc., etc. Come in for a ride today and learn why its sales sweep ever upward!
